- Connects USB-A host PCs, hubs and chargers to USB-C smartphones, tablets and accessories
- Reversible USB-C connector on the device end — plug in either orientation
- Backward compatible with USB 2.0 hosts at 480 Mbps
- Backed by a 2-Year Limited Warranty

Engineered for Reliable Connections

Bull Creek Technologies USB-A to USB-C cable bridges the USB-A installed base to the modern USB-C device ecosystem — keeping older PCs, USB hubs and wall chargers useful for charging and data transfer with current smartphones, tablets, audio gear and accessories.

USB 3.0 SuperSpeed (5 Gbps) data transfer is roughly 10x the throughput of USB 2.0 — a meaningful upgrade for syncing large media libraries, transferring video footage or charging tablets at their full input rate. Reversible USB-C connector on the device end means no fumbling.

Tested for compatibility with USB-A hosts and USB-C devices from all major OEMs. Backed by a 2-Year Limited Warranty.
